THANKSGIVING GAME WITH STANBERRY

M. H. S. TO FINISH SEASON HERE THURSDAY.

BEAT PATTONSBURG, 46-0

Opposing Team Never Had a Chance in Saturday's Game—Every Man a Star.

Maryville High School's football machine got into working order with a vengeance Saturday, burying the Pattonsburg eleven under an avalanche of scores, 46-0.

The first half looked as though it would be a good game, but with the aid of Ellis, a former Pattonsburg boy, the Maryville team went into high gear at the beginning of the second half and smashed through the line, skirted the ends and forward passed its way to a monotonous succession of touchdowns. The first half ended 14-0.

The perfection with which the backfield worked in Saturday's game gave promise of a real battle in the Thanksgiving fracas next Thursday, when Stanberry will be the opponents of the local team. Stanberry is reported as having an exceptionally powerful eleven, having defeated Bethany, 7-6, while Maryville was able only to tie that team. The Gentry Countians also defeated King City by a larger score than did Maryville.

The Thanksgiving game is a post-season attraction and is not included in the games on the season tickets. The game with Pattonsburg Saturday was scheduled late and not well advertised and as a result the High School's athletic treasury was seriously depleted. The ticket sale for the Turkey Day game was begun today, and it is hoped to have the largest crowd of the season. The game will be practically the only amusement offered for the Thanksgiving holiday.

To cite the stars in the game Saturday, it would be necessary to name the entire Maryville eleven. The line held like a stone wall against the onslaught of the heavy Pattonsburg forwards, while the ends never failed to spill the interference on attempted end runs. Pattonsburg failed to make first down even once during the entire game.

On the offensive, the Maryville backfield was operating more smoothly than in any game this season. The interference frequently cleared the path for the man with the ball to make long gains. Willoughby, O'Banion, Ellis, England and Barry took turns lugging the oval through the Pattonsburg line and around the ends. The open field dodging of Willoughby was especially good. He made three touchdowns.

Other touchdowns were made by Barry, England and O'Banion. The latter made two. Masters kicked four out of the seven goals. O'Banion on the few occasions when he was called upon to kick, sent the ball far down the field.

Probably the most spectacular play of the game was made by Ellis, when he received the ball on the kickoff and returned it into Pattonsburg territory.

MISS BERTHA ANDERSON RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

Big Pageant Is Feature at State Gathering of Sunday School Children.

Miss Bertha Anderson, secretary of the Nodaway County Sunday School association, returned home this morning from St. Louis, where she attended the state Sunday school association in session last week.

"The program was interesting and varied, covering all of the phases of work presented through the modern day Sunday school," said Miss Anderson.

A special feature of the program was the big pageant, Thursday night, entitled "The Light of the World," presented by its author, H. Augustine Smith. One hundred and fifty persons took part in the performance, which was witnessed by a crowded house.

There will be no mass convention of the association next year, owing to the International Sunday School association convention being held at Kansas City in June of 1922. There will be an ofifeers' efficiency conference held in November, at the time of the regular convention.

The late war did not make it safe for the fellows walking.

ITASCA PARK MEETING IS POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

Season Not Favorable For Delegates To Make Trip By Automobile

K. D. Cross of Savannah, president of the Itasca Park Highway Association, today notified Secretary George Pickens of the Chamber of Commerce that the organization meeting at Spencer, called for Wednesday, had been indefinitely postponed. The unfavorable season and other unfavorable conditions at this time made the move advisable, he said.

Secretary Pickens and other representatives from Maryville had intended to make the trip in cars over the new highway, leaving here tomorrow morning.

SCOPE OF PAGEANT HAS BEEN WIDENED

NEW CHARACTERS WILL APPEAR IN "AMERICA'S STRIKING HOUR"

IS FOR WELFARE BOARD

Churches Hope to Provide Funds For Relief Work At Union Service Wednesday Night

Armenia, Disarmament and World Peace are the new parts which will be added to the pageant "America's Striking Hour," which is to be presented at the Christian Church, at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night at the Union Thanksgiving Service of the churches of Maryville.

Already the Westminster Guild has presented this pageant to two capacity crowds at the Presbyterian Church. These new parts will add a new touch of effectiveness and increase the dramatic effectiveness of the pageant. Special rehearsals for this presentation began yesterday afternoon, and others will be held tonight and Tuesday night.

This service is being held under the auspices of the Ministerial Association, at whose requests the pageant is being repeated. As is customary the offering will go to the Welfare Board. This is the organization through which the churches of Maryville administer their aid to the needy of Maryville, and is composed of representatives from the various churches.

This year the expectation is that there will need to be a great deal of aid extended to the needy, and the hope is that the offering will be sufficient to obviate the need of again taking up the matter this winter in the churches.

TO HAVE SPEAKER FROM CHICAGO FOR MEN'S DINNER

Either Dr. William F. Weir Or Dr. Ezra Allen Van Nuys Will Speak At Presbyterian Church

Men of the Presbyterian Church are looking forward with great expectation to the men's dinner to be held there this evening at 6:45 o'clock. Arrangements are now complete for the gathering.

S. G. Gillam will be the toastmaster. Charles R. Gardner and Thomas Howard Annett, of the College Conservatory, will be present to lead in some singing of old favorite songs.

The Ladies Aid Society will serve the dinner, which will center around baked chicken.

One of two great leaders among men's work, in the Presbyterian Church, will be the principal speaker. Both of these men have had notable success in their own churches in such work, and are kept constantly busy by requests from organizations of men all over the country.

Dr. William F. Weir, general secretary of men's work in the Presbyterian Church, is expected, but sickness may prevent his coming. In this case, Dr. Ezra Allen Van Nuys will be here. Dr. Van Nuys is now associate pastor with Dr. John Timothy Stone of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago, and before that was associated with Dr. Weir in the men's work. The speaker will arrive from Chicago on the afternoon Burlington train.

To Kansas City Hospital.

Miss Lorena Fenton has been accepted for nurse's training at Grace Hospital in Kansas City and will leave next Monday to assume her work. Miss Fenton returned several weeks ago from Detroit, Mich., where she went for similar training at the Harper Hospital, but was disqualified because of physical disability.

G. A. R. ENTERTAINS FOR RELIEF CORPS

CAPTAIN HYSLOP TOASTMASTER AT BANQUET

MRS. ARMSTRONG SPEAKS

Is National Officer of W. R. C.—Sedgwick Post, G. A. R., Has Four Charter Members Here

Eighty people attended the banquet at the Hotel Bainum Saturday night given by Sedgwick Post No. 21, G. A. R. in honor of the members of the local chapter of the Women's Relief Corp. Mrs. Anna Mae Armstrong of Kansas City, a national officer of the W. R. C. who has been visiting the local chapter was the special guest of the evening. The guests included several members of each of the patriotic and other local organizations.

An informal meeting was held in the G. A. R. hall preceding the banquet, at which singing of patriotic songs and several speeches took place. Captain Charles Hyslop presided as toastmaster at the banquet and in his introductory remarks, told of the Civil War days and gave a brief history of the local post of the G. A. R. and the local chapter of the W. R. C.

Mrs. Armstrong, in her talk, recited reminiscences of the Civil War, of which her father is a veteran, and the world war, of which her son is a veteran. She urged co-operation and comradeship between the veterans of all American wars.

Captain Hyslop said the Sedgwick Post No. 21 was organized in Maryville on August 15, 1883, with forty-six members. Of these original members, four are still members of the local post, they being John G. Grems, Ira E. Aidlerman, N. Sisson and Captain Hyslop. Two others of the charter members of the post are now living elsewhere, being Judge S. R. Beech of San Diego, and Dr. J. B. Morrison, living in Florida.

The Post has had 420 members at one time. At present its membership is 50, with members scattered from Oklahoma to Pennsylvania.

The Women's Relief Corps was organized with twenty-five charter members, there are four still members, being Mrs. Catherine Miller, Mrs. Mary Herron, and Miss Della Grems of Maryville, and Mrs. Fred Shade of Corpus Christi, Tex. The Corps was organized in 1887.

Mrs. Armstrong who is national junior vice-president of the Women's Relief Corps, is a member of the board for the Federal Home at St. James, Mo., having been appointed by Governor Hyde.

Other speakers of the evening were Dr. Jesse Miller, J. F. Hull, Rev. J. A. Cooper and George A. Pickens.

The Women's Relief Corps issued the following statement today:

"We, the women of the W. R. C. Auxiliary, take this way of thanking the G. A. R.'s for the loyal way in which they entertained us and the bountiful banquet which they served and also for everything that was done for our comfort and pleasure."

DR. O. L. CURL GIVES FIFTH IN SERIES OF SERMONS

Discussion of the "Origin of Sin" Will Be Followed by One on the "Evolution of Evil."

"The Origin of Sin" was the subject last night of Dr. O. L. Curl, pastor of the First Methodist church, in the fifth of his series of sermons on evolution. Next Sunday night he will preach on "The Evolution of Evil."

Dr. Curl divided his series into three parts, the first dealing with generation and including physical evolution and spiritual evolution, the second dealing with degeneration and the third with regeneration.

Dr. Curl again emphasized that while the Bible may be interpreted literally if the reader is better satisfied, yet there is much of its language that is figurative. The serpent of sin in the Garden of Eden, he said, may be regarded only as an effective personification.

"Sin has no right in God's universe, and God never wanted it here, though he knew it would be here," the pastor said. Smallpox spreads fast, but sin spreads faster and is more prevalent. Every unsaved person has been made by the Devil to believe that God is not good."

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church of Pickering will give a market and a chicken pie dinner Thanksgiving day.

SKIDMORE MAN CHARGED WITH STEALING CHICKENS

Girl Member of Poultry Club Identifies Some of Her Prize Birds at Market.

Dale Yeager of near Skidmore was arrested today on a charge of larceny of chickens in the night time. His preliminary hearing is set for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Yeager is charged with stealing nineteen chickens from Lloyd A. Linville, living four and a half miles northeast of Skidmore. Included in the Linville lot were a few chickens which were raised by Mr. Linville's daughter, Bertha Mae Linville, 12 years old, who is a member of the Nodaway county boys and girls poultry club. She was intending to show these chickens at the county poultry show in Maryville within the next few weeks.

Two of these prize chickens were found in the poultry yard of the Farmers Union Saturday and were identified by Bertha Mae as her own on account of a marker having been used on them.

Linville said he had missed about sixty chickens within the past month or so. George Owens, living in the same community, reported he had lost 100 chickens. Albert Harbison and others reported they have also had chickens taken.

MINISTER APPEALS FOR TRUTH AND BROTHERHOOD

Christian Church Must Not Fail in This Crisis, Declares the Rev. W. B. Allison.

An appeal for truth and brotherhood to rule the world in the future instead of war was made at the First Presbyterian church last night by the Rev. W. B. Allison, father of the Rev. S. P. Allison. He affirmed the recent assertion of President Harding that if the Christian church fails in the present crisis, there will be little hope for civilization.

Ten times as much money is being spent on navies by the nations of the world as there is being devoted to missionary work, the minister declared. There are ten times as many men in these navies as there are missionaries.

The four characteristics of Paul—faith, obedience, love and passion—may well govern the world today, he said.

WILL HE TOP THE MARKET FOR TWENTY-SECOND TIME

W. A. Berg to Ship 103 Cattle to International Show—Are Shown in Movies.

W. A. Berg and son will ship 103 head of their fine Aberdeen-Angus cattle to Chicago tomorrow where they will be entered in the baby beef class in the International Live Stock Show. For twenty-one years, ever since Mr. Berg first began breeding purebred cattle, he has topped the market with his baby beeves at the International Show. During that time he has set two world's records. He has little doubt that he will top the market for the twenty-second consecutive year with the shipment that will leave Maryville tomorrow.

Pictures of Mr. Berg's cattle on his Oxford Angus Farm, near Parnell, have been taken for the Nodaway county moving picture film. In the party from Maryville when the pictures were taken were Mr. and Mrs. Berg, their daughter, Miss Marie and son, Morirs, Ralph Marcell, E. R. Miller, Fred Diss and George Pickens.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY GIVES OBLIGATION TO SEVERAL

A special meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Seth Ray David Post was held Saturday afternoon and several who had signed the original charter membership roll took the obligation. They were: Mrs. W. B. Scott, Mrs. M. P. Gingrich, Miss Lucile Cummins, Mrs. R. C. Person, Miss May Kissinger, Mrs. Otis Lyle, Mrs. R. J. Sawyers, Miss Mary Sawyers, Mrs. H. S. Rowlett. Three new members were initiated, they being Mrs. A. R. Perrin, Mrs. Jay Meek and Mrs. Mary Miller.

It was decided at the meeting to have a market on Wednesday at the Price furniture store. The members of the committee in charge are Mrs. Wayne Brown, Mrs. M. K. Garrett, Miss Dessa Gault and Mrs. Robert Garten.

SAYS CONFERENCE IDEA IS WILSON'S

PROF. HENRY A. FOSTER SPEAKS ON ARMAMENT PARLEY

TWO PARTIES NOW AGREE

After Delay of Three Years, Broader Spirit of Internationalism Has Triumphed

What the present Washington conference in Washington has done, what it hopes to do and the problems it faces were outlined yesterday morning by Prof. Henry A. Foster, head of the history department of the State Teachers College before the Men's Class of the First Christian Church.

"What Mr. Wilson failed to do is, in its broader outlines, only what now President Harding would do in some other way," said Professor Foster. "For three years the world has weltered in its blood while America has hesitated to lead on.

"The point is that the responsible leaders of both our great parties are breaking away from our traditional policy of isolation. That bigger Americanism today dominates both parties."

The application of the Golden Rule was offered by Mr. Foster as the only solution of the world's problems.

The class has asked Mr. Foster to continue his discussion of the armament conference at its meeting next Sunday. His speech yesterday was as follows:

"There is a great dearth of information and wisdom in the world. The affairs of mankind, at least as considered in the aggregate, have run amuck. The world's statesman have failed on the job. That knowledge they acknowledge and the rest of the world proclaim. The whole world situation is replete with the proof. The only pertinent attitude for us all today is one of humility and studious research for guiding truth. When we take stock of the situation and realize the meagerness of our resources with which to meet it, we can only lift our voices in the concerted plea, Oh Lord, what shall we do to be saved?

A Great Historic Period

"While there is a stubborn continuity of things historical, the world goes on after all, in a sweep of more or less distinct ages and epochs. Among these may be named the Alexandrian age, the age of the Caesers, the Renaissance, the Protestant Revolt, the French Revolution and Napoleonic wars. The industrial revolution, the age of nationlism, and the present age of the World War and internationalism. Whether we realize it or not we are in the midst of one of the world's great historic periods. How great the pity if some of us should fail in all measure whatsoever to comprehend the changes through which the world is now passing! But the greater pity that some have no interest in it!

"The failure of the world to govern itself, and its consequent waste of resources, material and spiritual, have left humanity, according to our best present-day prophets on the brink of ruin. Some go so far as to suggest a possible lapse of civilization into chaos and barbarism. But however ill the portents, it is still the chief concern of some to ply their social amusements with tea and cards, while others are mad with their perennial grubbings for paltry dollars. So far as these are concerned, America's more than twenty thousand publications with their almost twenty billions of annual circulation fail to convey their universal message of the new responsibility of American citizenship.

Is America's Age

"America today finds herself most peculiarly related to mankind. This is not only a new age, but it is in a great sense the American age. Not an age of American exploitation to be sure, but an age of American service. The leadership passes to us. Thus far the world has been an expanded Europe. The Americas have been Europeanized; Japan has been Europeanized; India, Africa, China, and the Islands of the Seas are in process of Europeanization. In so far as the world is an expanded Europe, it has just that far become a unit, a one-ness in civilization. That one-ness is, of course, incomplete. That civilization, now world-wide, having its source in Europe, is exceedingly faulty. It is saturated with the spirit and the technique of national and ra-

ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE IS WEAPON OF WAR PARTY

Is Used As Cloak For Imitation Of German Militarism Against Will of the People

Shanghai, Nov. 21—The Anglo-Japanese alliance is the sharpest sword in the hands of the war party of Japan, declared Lord Northcliffe, noted British Publisher, upon his arrival here today from a tour of Japan.

"Under cover of this alliance," said Northcliffe, "the war party of Japan spends more than half of the people's income on the navy, army and fortifications. Japan's arrogance toward the United States would not be possible without this alliance. Many Japanese told me they hated the imitation of German militarism of the war party but are powerless to protest."

DECLARES FRANCE DARE NOT DISARM

BRIAND PLEADS FOR PROTECTION AGAINST GERMANY

ARMY ALREADY REDUCED

Old Prussian Militarism and Forces Of Anarchy Still Menancing, Says Premier

Washington, Nov. 21.—The third open session of the armament conference convened at 11 o'clock today.

Secretary of State Hughes declared in opening the conference that gratifying progress is being made in the adjustment of conflicting views on the naval and far Eastern problems.

Land armament is now under consideration, he said, and after declaring the United States is for the smallest possible army, declared it is fitting that there be the freest possible exchange of views by the delegates.

He then turned to Premier Briand of France. Great applause greeted Briand as he arose.

"Nothing is more agreeable to France," Briand said, "than to tell the conference that France stands ready to make the most sacrifices and contribute the most to the era of peace."

He passionately pleaded with the powers that France dare not disarm.

Asserting that on her doorsteps sits the old Prussian militarism that attacked her in 1914, ready to strike again at a moment's notice, he asked the nations seated in the conference to place themselves in France's position.

"Would the world," he asked almost tearfully, "demand that France disarm before a possible flood of anarchy and militarism pouring out of Russia and Germany?"

Officers of the old German army, he declared, have secret orders from the German ministry of war to hold themselves in readiness for war. They could be mobilized at a moment's notice, he asserted.

"It is a mistaken belief that Germany has no war materials," he declared, "because a survey shows they have plenty. Guns are being made. Can you picture the anguish of France at the picture of armies of anarchists coming to our door to slaughter us? Can you blame France for becoming the policeman of Europe?"

France already has cut down her army to almost the lowest possible point consistent with national safety, Briand declared. The French army, he stated, has been cut down one-third already.

"Tomorrow we will cut down to one-half," he declared.

Briand pointed out that laws already are pending in France to decrease the period of compulsory military service from three years to one-and one-half years. The steps already taken, he asserted, are evidence of France's willingness to do her utmost to realize the ideal of reduced armament.

No promises for the future other than these were made by the French premier and he merely pointed to them as an indication of French desire to escape the accusation of being imperialistic in her military policy.

FORTY ENROLL IN CLASS TO STUDY AGRICULTURE

Conception College and State Teachers College Cooperate in Night Course for Jefferson Township

A class of forty, representing the entire township, is now enrolled in the Jefferson Township agricultural course, which opened auspiciously in the school auditorium at Clyde last Monday night. The class is being conducted by the Rev Father Alforese of Conception College, who is assisted by A. O. Reegle of Conception. The sessions are held every Wednesday and Friday night.

The lectures will be vitalized by the use of lantern slides, library work and the discussion of live topics by the class. The faculty of the State Teachers College, through the efforts of Bert Cooper, one of the leaders and pioneers in agricultural teaching in the rural schools of Missouri and other states, has offered to send instructors for feature lectures to be given throughout the course. Additional applicants for the course are assured.

During the same period the navy department spent $6,807,360,032.86 and there was paid out for pensions for past wars $5,634,079,-656.25. By the passage of the act advancing road work at the recent session of the legislature the State of Missouri will receive $2,448,128.62 for highway construction from the Federal Government. The Federal act provides for the division of $75,000,000 among the various states for road construction. In addition, $15,000,000 is appropriated for national forest roads. Every state in the union is a recipient from this act. The largest appropriation of $4,425,172.41, goes to Texas and the smallest, $365,625, is received alike by Delaware, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. This federal appropriation is made with the understanding that each state will match the sum received, dollar for dollar, by money from the state treasury. The $75,000,000 appropriation is for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, and $25,000,000 of the sum is available immediately, the balance to become available on January 1, 1922. Of the appropriation of $15,000,000 for the improvement of national forest roads, $5,000,000 is available for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, and $10,000,000 for the following fiscal year.

cial prejudice and of hate. There is hope that Europe has somewhat purified herself in the terrible crucible of modern war. But her change is too slow, her deeply seated traditions hold her too much enthralled, and scientific destruction in her national conflicts have brought that fated land too near the brink for her to remain the source of the best civilizing agencies and leadership.

"A committee sent to Europe recently by the United States Chamber of Commerce to study economic conditions came back with the report that 300,000,000 over there are subsisting on no more than 30 per cent of what was at their disposal in 1913. Now three hundred million constitute three-fourths or more of their total population. Austria is in a state of national bankruptcy. Poland is practically there. Russia is even worse. We have all learned of Germany's economic condition with her possible $33,000,000,000 of indemnity. England owes a third of all she has; France is in a worse condition, and other lesser states even now fight themselves on into exhaustion and bankruptcy. We know too much of the laws of sociology to expect this people of one-third fed mothers and fathers to give the next generation of leaders. This is history's most astounding and disastrous demonstration of the failure of a narrow, prejudiced and self-seeking policy of nationalism. While Europe thus exhausts herself in the persuit of fallacious social ideas, the purpose and spirit of mankind in its indomitable onge, transcends the bounds of a weakened Europe, and plants itself in our midst.

Wilson Not At Fault

"It is thus infinitely greater to be an American today than ever before. We come out of the war the world's greatest state in economic resources, in prestige, in moral influence, and in the world's confidence. The world needs leadership and America can lead if she only will assume the responsibility. Whatsoever fault one may find with the details of Wilson's assumption of this leadership, there can be no fault found with its general idea. He was only responding to the inevitable however imperfectly he did it. For three years the world has weltered in its blood while America has hesitated to lead on. In the meantime we have been getting our bearings in the new situation and incidentally trying to determine which of our great political parties should be the standard bearer. We should not be deceived as to the inevitable.

"What Mr. Wilson failed to do is, in its broader outlines, only what now President Harding would do in some other way. I say this without suggesting any imitation on the part of the latter. War must be outlawed and America is in a position to make the chief contribution. Realizing this, the American Senate, the President and Secretary of State have acted accordingly. Two hours after the Armaments Conference met, Mr. Hughes pledged his country to commitments on reduction of naval forces so drastic as to startle the world.

"And this is done without saying a word by way of conditioning his proposal on a cancellation of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance (which conceivably might be used against the U. S.), or on any restriction as to divers other naval resources which might leave us at a disadvantage. Mr. Hughes, it would seem, is only carrying out the President's wishes in the matter, if one is to judge by the spirit of his address in the opening session. Whence came the authority of these men and what is their purpose? They seem to vie with Wilson in their assumption of authority and responsibility for their constituency. It all means that America, whether under Democratic or Republican Administration, must assume international obligations in some sort of co-operative action.

U. S. Must Take Part

"President Harding was speaking for America when he said to the assembled delegates, "We only wish to do with you, that finer, nobler thing which no nation can do alone." In addresses of Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes we find no place for the sentiments contained in such slogans 'isolation', 'America for Americans', 'National self-sufficiency', and 'Let Europe stew in her own juice.' They were pregnant with the idea of some sort of world order and the international mind.

"The point is that the responsible leaders of both our great parties are breaking away from our traditional policy of isolation. The international mind is permeating the land and those who would persist in the narrower view have already found themselves leaderless. That bigger Americanism today dominates both parties. Then our foreign policy to a greater extent becomes necessarily more and more non-partisan, at least so far as fundamentals go. It is therefore to be hoped that all will get behind the administration and help to accomplish all good possible.

"The first Hague Conference, 1898, was the first modern attempt to limit armaments. Germany blocked this attempt and the conference ended with no more than a pious wish that something yet might be done. The Second Hague Conference, 1907, could not even discuss the matter for Germany, Austria, Russia and Japan repudiated such a move. Only England and America reserved the right to discuss the subject. The conference ended with nothing done on the question except the adoption of a request that the American President appoint a committee to investigate it and recommend. The hopelessness of the task is supposed to be the explanation of the President's failure to name a committee. Nothing else was done to limit armaments till the world war. Mr. Wilson's Fourteen Points provided for a resumption of this issue, but the League of Nations could do nothing with America out, especially when she was doing the world's biggest program of naval construction.

What Conference Has Done

"With this record of failure one cannot wonder at the loss of confidence in the ability of statesmen to reach an agreement and thus is explained the world's surprise at Mr. Hughes proposals. He is willing to leave England, the United States and Japan, the three greatest naval powers in the relationship, so far as capital ships go, respectively as 22 to 18 to 10. As to lesser craft, he would leave England and the United States about equal but Japan as related to them about as 5 to 8. Japan is asking for a larger tonnage of capital ships than the Hughes plan allows and for auxiliary ships she is asking for almost equal tonnage with England and the United States. England asks even a larger reduction of submarines than the Hughes plan. But Japan and France object to this, since the submarine is the weapon of the weak. Other questions already broached involve China's ten points in which she pleads for the 'Open Door', 'Territorial integrity', 'Administrative integrity', 'Revelation of secret treaties affecting China',etc. Japan is apparently in a mood to accept most of what she asks.

"The spirit prevailing at the conference is outwardly superb. The conditions in the world today impel us to believe that the conference simply MUST NOT FAIL TO DO SOMETHING. Science has so intertwined the world's interests industrially, commercially and financially that there now exists a world economy. This interdependence is enhanced by science at an even acceleration speed. The demand for a world order must likewise grow. The world has today so coalesced in its business relationships that there is developing an irresistable demand for a corporate management of world affairs. This if course must come slowly and cautiously but must come as surely as the shining of the sun.

Must Apply Golden Rule

"We are at the point in social evolution where only the Golden Rule will save us from destruction. International wrong-doing more and more defeats the interests of recalcitrant states. As a matter of self-defense, that rule of good neighborliness of the lowly Nazarene, for two thousand years called impractical, now emerges more and more as the only practical rule of action between the nations. Whatsoever we may do as individuals to help the administration, to help America put this principle into action will bring the greater glory to our beloved land and the more lasting blessings to mankind."

PREPARE TO SELL CHRISTMAS SEALS

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

MISSOURI RANKS FIRST

Death Rate in This State Falling Faster Than in Any Other—Credit to Schools

With the approach of the Christmas season County Superintendent Leslie G. Somerville is preparing for the annual sale of the Tuberculosis Seals in the schools of the county. And in connection with this work he has received the interesting information that Missouri leads all states in the reduction of the tuberculosis death rate for the last eight years.

This information which comes from the state executive secretary says that Missouri's record is due primarily to the education of the people through the schools and the sale of the seals. This year's campaign will be begun earlier than usual and a supply of posters and seals will be sent soon.

Letter Received.

The letter received by Superintendent Somerville from Dr. W. McN. Miller of St. Louis, reads:

"You will be pleased to learn that from a table of available mortality statistics recently received from the National Tuberculosis Association, covering all the states of the Union for the years 1911-1920, Missouri is shown to rank first in respect to the relative reduction in the tuberculosis death rate in the last eight years. In other words, the tuberculosis death rate is falling faster in Missouri than in any other state.

"In the last nine years the death rate from tuberculosis in Missouri has been reduced nearly one-third, and preliminary announcements made by the State Board of Health of deaths from tuberculosis in the state for the first six months of 1921 warrant belief and prophecy that in the ten years the death rate in Missouri will be reduced to nearly one-half what it was in 1911.

Credit to Schools.

"To no generally operating cause other than that of education and the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas seals through the schools can these beneficent results be assigned. To the schools belong the major credit.

"That this great work may continue giving such results, we bespeak your interest and co-operation in the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale of 1921.

"Seals and seal fund certificates with printed matter pertaining to tuberculosis and designed for distribution by the school children, and to the sale of Christmas seals, will be sent to you as in preceding years, but earlier.

"Please, as school superintendent and with your personal help, give the children of your schools and their parents and friends and your community opportunity to participate in this beneficent, life saving work."
